NEGRO TAKEN OUT AND MURDERED BY NIGHT RIDERS AT GOLDEN POND.

Second Killing That Has Occurred by Night Riders Within a Week.

REIGN OF CRIME STILL UNCHECKED

Following close upon the murder of Hiram Hedges, in Nicholas county, comes the news of another murder by night riders, this time in Trigg county. A band of twenty-five night riders, masked and armed, rode Monday night into Golden Pond, a village between the river, and after firing off guns went to the hotel and from the servants' quarters forced Tom Weaver, aged 40, a negro tobacco packer, to accompany them. The band took Weaver a little distance from the village, and after whipping him withdrew a short distance from him and told him to run. The negro failed to obey promptly and the riders began shooting at him. One bullet entered his shoulder and another his hip. He fell in the road, where neighbors found him next morning in a dying condition, and he died Tuesday. No cause for the outrage is known. Weaver worked for an association prize house.

SOLDIERS AT EDDYVILLE

Whitesburg Company Sends 30 Men There at Request of County Judge.

Eddyville, Ky., March 25.—The troops from Hopkinsville arrived here at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. They were in citizens' clothes and reported to the County Judge. There were thirty in the detachment. They were from the Whitesburg company. The troops have been ordered here at the request of County Judge W. L. Crumbaugh and other peace officers.

Though the tobacco war is regarded as over and the planters belonging to the association have practically won the victory, the lawless element has been left in control, and night after night armed bodies of men ride over the county, shooting up homes, whipping farmers who have incurred their displeasure, driving out negroes, and leaving their commands to be obeyed under threats of violence. Apparently they have no fear of the authorities, and the situation is one that has aroused the gravest anxiety among those citizens who hope to see the power of the law restored in Lyon county.

Judge Crumbaugh said that as an evidence of the fear that has taken hold of the citizens of Eddyville he was unable to rent either of two buildings here which could be converted into suitable quarters for the militia, and as a result he will be compelled to lodge the soldiers in the county courthouse.

"If I knew I had but two hours to live," said Judge Crumbaugh, "I would devote those two hours to trying to restore law and order to this county. Conditions here are unendurable and something must be done to check the outbreaks of these

ROB WOOD CONVICTED

Jury Fixed His Punishment at Fine And Imprisonment.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNED

Batch of Indictments Returned Against Alleged Night Riders.

The jury in the case of Robert Wood, the young Church Hill farmer, charged with sending a threatening letter to Lewis Dawson, col., was argued Monday afternoon and given to the jury Tuesday morning and at 11:30 yesterday morning the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the punishment at a fine of $100 and imprisonment for three months in the county jail.

Grand Jury's Work.

The grand jury adjourned Tuesday afternoon after returning a total of 76 indictments in 26 days. One of the important indictments was unsigned and Judge Cook ordered the jury to re-assemble to-day to correct the defect. The jury returned in all seven indictments for alleged "night rider" offenses, as follows:

Rob Wood, sending threatening letter.

Mat Gholson, col., confederating to destroy property.

Herman R. Crenshaw, same offense.

Dr. Wallace Durham, confederating to injure another.

One other indictment for complicity in the Hopkinsville raid and two for sending threatening letters have not been made public, as the parties have not yet been arrested.

Herman Crenshaw is a prominent and highly connected young farmer of Roaring Spring.

Mat Gholson is a half-breed Indian who lives just north of town. These two were indicted for complicity in the raid of Dec. 7th. Dr. Durham is a young physician of North Christian, who is charged with being in the party that whipped Press Rogers. Evidence against him was given by half a dozen or more witnesses.

Gholson is in jail. Crenshaw has been under bond since January and Durham appeared yesterday and executed bond. Geo. B. Powell, the one man indicted in January, is under bond and his case has been continued until June.

The injunction suit of Sheriff David Smith vs. Jno. M. Renshaw and Judge C. O. Prowse was called Tuesday morning and an amended petition filed by the attorneys for Mr. Smith, which was objected to by the defendants and the objection sustained. The plaintiff was granted time to prepare an answer, setting up the facts eliminated from the petition, and the case will be heard one day this week. No definite time was set by the court.

The suit of Marion Russell's administrator against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. was begun Tuesday. Russell was a negro who was killed while sitting on the railroad near the crossing of the Bradshaw road. The suit is for $100,000 damages. The negro was probably asleep and it is charged that the accident was due to the failure of the train men to blow the whistle and arouse him.

NEW RAILROAD SEEMS ASSURED

Cairo & Norfolk Line Will Pass Through Hopkinsville.

MR. NEAL'S PET PROJECT

Road Will Extend From Ft. Jefferson, Ky., To Bristol, Va.

It now seems probable that we are to have another railroad, sure enough.

Articles of incorporation of the Cairo & Norfolk Railroad Company, with a capital stock of $500,000, have been filed at Frankfort. The original articles were filed first at Mayfield. Graves county. The incorporators are L. W. Goode and E. E. Weston, of New York, and M. W. Kelly, of Madison, Wis., D. A. Usher, K. E. Lockridge, B. A. Neal, H. C. Neal, E. S. Beaumont, Arthur E. Thomas, F. R. Allen and C. B. Goode, all of whom live at Mayfield, Ballard and other Western Kentucky cities.

The railroad when completed will extend from Ft. Jefferson, in Ballard county, which is on the Mississippi river, to Bristol, Va., which is near the junction of the Virginia North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee lines. It will be 500 miles in length and will be a trunk line extending through the following counties in Kentucky: Wickliffe, Ballard, Lyon, Trigg, Christian, Todd, Logan, Warren, Simpson, Barren, Allen, Metcalf, Monroe, Cumberland, Adair, Russell, Clinton, Wayne, Pulaski, Whitley, Laurel, Knox, Bell, Leslie, Harlan, Letcher and Pike.

The highest indebtedness that can be incurred in the construction of this road is $12,500,000, but when the road is completed it will be worth many millions more. The road will pass through several counties in the State that are not now touched by railroads and will therefore develop and open up an entire new territory.

First to Be Given.

The Rummage Sale to be given by the D. A. R. is the first of the kind to be given in this city. In other places it has been given with great success. The articles asked for are such as any housekeeper will be glad to dispose of at this time of the year.

BOOKS ORDERED RE-OPENED IN EVERY COUNTY OF BLACK PATCH

The following communication has been issued by General Manager Ewing:

To the Directors:

Guthrie, Ky., March 20, 1908.
I am in receipt of letters from nearly all the Directors in regard to the matter of reopening the membership books, and while some of them are very much opposed, saying "their representations to their people to the effect that they would positively not be re-opened," would embarrass them greatly, a very large majority of the Directors favor it. In view of very alarming ill feeling existing throughout the dark tobacco district against people who have not heretofore joined, and in view of its being the plain duty of every one of us to do everything possible to preserve the peace and quiet of the country to the greatest extent of our ability, I think we should use this re-opening of the books in the most pleasant and attractive way possible and without the slightest reference to unpleasant occurrences of the past. We should remember that some of the most consistent members of the church today are men who did not join during a revival and while their friends were so intensely interested, but instead long afterward. We should put the colors of full fellowship upon this, another chance to join the Association and encourage the idea in every way possible, that it should allay bitterness of thought and intemperance speech. Let us make a masterly effort to make the facts of the Association's success so well known that there will be no "hill-billies."

Do not chafe a man who came in late; shake his hand cordially, and let him read sincerely in your every word and action. I do not know who the night riders are, but I am firmly of opinion that if this spirit is kindled and most carefully built upon, there will be no night riders.

The books in every county are hereby opened from this date and until further notice. I beg that not only every Director and Officer make a tremendous effort to enlist in our cause all those on the outside, but that every member and every sympathizer in the great work, earnest endeavor to bring them into our fold, where we can be as a band of brothers seeking one purpose, the benefit of the whole community, and without malice towards anyone.

Yours truly,

F. G. EWING,
General Manager.

An Interesting Letter.

While the amount of money that is being received to help the cause of Education in Kentucky is very encouraging, the interest shown by all is even more so. The following letter shows the spirit that will win for our State the place it deserves among the first, and not so near the last.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 9, 1908.

Mrs. Frank Yost, City—

Dear Madam—I have just received your communication on the subject of education. In answer to all of the questions—do you know—I can say that I do know to my sorrow and regret. While I have no children of my own, I have raised four and educated them as best I could. I do know that I contributed to the building of our district school house. I do know that I contributed to getting a stove for same. I do know that I carried trees and helped with my own hands to set them out in the school yard. While I deplore that I have not been able to do more I have put away my little mite and send you $25.00. I am only sorry it is not $25.00. Very respectfully,

Mrs. ———

But it won't cure it.
You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; relieve the pain.

Mrs. Eva Hobbs, living on North Seminary street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I have no hesitancy in re-endorsing the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills, as they are, without doubt, the best kidney medicine in the world. When they permanently cured me of my trouble in the summer of 1903, I allowed my experience to be published in our local papers so that others who suffer as I did might know what course to pursue to get relief. I was a sufferer for years with terrible pains through my kidneys and down through my loins. There were such bearing down pains at times that I actually had to give up and lie down until the pain subsided. The secretions from the kidneys were irregular in action and painful, in passing. I tried remedy after remedy, rubbed my back with liniment, and wore plaster but received little or no relief. Doan's Kidney Pills made a complete and permanent cure four years ago, and it only required two boxes to do it. I have been perfectly free from any kidney complaint ever since."

MARCH ON EDDYVILLE.

Band of 100 Night Riders Frighten Citizens by Firing in Air.

Eddyville, Ky., March 23.—Lyon county citizens are aroused in a great height of indignation by the frequent raids thrust upon them. This city's suburb was the recipient of another minor visitation by night riders, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock Saturday night.

About 100 strong all mounted, securely masked and heavily armed, in case of emergency, they marched just within the city limits and came to halt at the order of the commanding officer. Four of them, supposed to be leaders, rode a short distance away from their warriors, talked in subdued tones, as if holding consultation, for a time, and then returned to the main body, speaking in commanding voices. At the juncture a gun was fired and each steed plunged forward like mad, while its rider incessantly pumped fire and lead into the atmosphere.

No damage was done, but the suburb and residents, as well as others who live in town, were frightened beyond contemplation.

MAY CATCH MURDERERS

Rumor That Members of Band Are Known—Hundred Arrested at Funeral.

Carlisle, Ky., March 23.—The funeral of Hiram Hedges, who was murdered Friday night by night riders, was held Sunday at his late home. About seven hundred persons, many from this city, attended the funeral. There was much feeling and sympathy manifested for the grief-stricken wife and children.

The people in that part of the county are loud in their condemnations of the crime. It is rumored that two or three of the band are known. Nothing as yet has been done toward apprehending the murderers as the officers hardly know what to do. They have no positive clew to work from. County Judge McNew says that everything will be done to ascertain who committed the crime.

At the foot of Lafayette avenue Kansas City, Kan., lives a negro woman who says she is 125—and that she can prove it. Nancy Gordon is her name, says the Kansas City Star. She was born near Alexandria, Va., about 1782. She was the slave Mathias Boone, a wealthy cotton planter of that vicinity, who was an officer in the Continental army.

A Heavy Load to Carry

"ALL IS WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a diseased stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. On the other hand the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous drugs.

No man is stronger than his stomach. Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. A man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the life of the body is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is impoverished that physical weakness will be found in back and knees, in hands and feet equally. So also will the weakness be equally distributed among the organs, heart, liver, kidneys, etc., being proportionately weak according to the amount of the reduction of their daily ration of nutrition.

By way of example take the case of the Assistant Treasurer of the Catholic Foresters at Quebec, Mr. Louis Pava, who writes:

"For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctor claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and soon taking the doctor's medicine, she bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I took up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different man. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it a hearty recommendation."

THE SECRET OUT.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas and other unsound statements published by competing and disgruntled medicine men concerning Dr. Pierce's World-famous Family Medicines the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Golden Medical Discovery." Hereafter every bottle of this medicine having the great seal of Dr. J. C. Rives, N. Y., will bear upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound, printed in plain English.

These ORIGINAL Little Live Pills, first put up by old Dr. J. C. Rives over 20 years ago, have been most highly and successfully recommended by the most reliable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They specially relieve and cure fast, torpid and distressed bowels. Livers and Bowels and their attendant distasteful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

ANOTHER ATROCITY

Raiders Are Overrunning the Counties In Pursue.

IN CALLOWAY COUNTY

Home of Independent Farmer Destroyed and Family Barely Escapes.

Paducah, Ky., March 23.—While the family of Richard Spann, a farmer, of Calloway county, near Beech Grove, and the Graves county line, were sleeping about 2 o'clock Sunday morning, incendiaries set fire to the residence, the stable and empty tobacco barn, and not until the roar of the flames and the burning brands from the roof began dropping in did any of them awaken to their danger.

It was with the utmost difficulty that Mr. Spann succeeded in getting his wife and children out and a few minutes later the structure, which had been set afire at the corner, fell in and all their clothing and household goods were lost; all valued with the house at about $2,000.

As the family rushed out they were met by the glare from the burning stable and the scream of the maddened horses imprisoned within. On another side of the lot the empty tobacco barn was a glow of embers.

Mr. Spann has not raised any tobacco for several years, but announced his intention of raising a crop this year. He did not join the association.

There were no shots fired by the incendiaries and their work was carried on quietly so as to not arouse any of the sleeping inmates. It is believed they intended to burn the inmates to death.

FORTS IN HOPKINS.

Warlike Preparations to Resist Threatened Invasion.

Madisonville, Ky., March 23.—At one of the largest mines in the county a force of men were at work Sunday building a fence along the public road, which is a few hundred feet from the mine property. This fence is about five and one-half feet high, and is being built out of timber, six to eight inches, and a small opening is left near the top. Small v-shape stands, out of the same material, have been erected on different spots around the property, with the same opening near the top, which it is believed are to be used by guards in case of an attack.

Similar preparations are being made at several other points in the county, and it is understood here today that forts have been built today around a number of the mines, and men are at work to-day.

THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury empaneled the last week in February adjourned Tuesday, but will reassemble, and hold a brief session today, to correct a defect in one of the indictments returned. Several changes were made in the body from time to time, but every man on the jury from first to last was true to his oath and ready at all times to do his full duty.
In order that the people of Kentucky know that there are brave and true citizens in one county at least in Kentucky, we give the names of the members of the grand jury, those marked with an asterisk having been excused before the final adjournment: W. A. Fritz, foreman.

The work of this grand jury marked a new era in the stamping out of lawlessness in the state.
Circuit Judge Thomas E. Cook instructed the jury to enter upon a fearless, faithful and vigorous investigation of the depredations of night riders.
The Commonwealth's Attorney, Hon. Denny P. Smith, and the County Attorney, Hon. John C.
Duffy, both manifested a willingness to lend ready assistance, and a committee from the Law and Order League gave its active co-operation in the difficult task of finding witnesses. Sheriff David Smith and his deputies, L. C. Cravens and Jewel W. Smith, shrank no duty imposed upon them, and the Kentuckian takes pleasure in stating that a real, persistent and effective attempt was made to discover some of the guilty parties who have committed depredations in Christian county. More than 100 witnesses were examined.
Some for obvious reasons concealed their knowledge, some were afraid to tell what they knew, a few gave testimony that led to indictments.
44 participating in raids and three for writing threatening letters were returned. This is a good start.
Twice as many would have been returned, but for the timidity of some of the witnesses who failed at the right time to do their duty.
Many clues were discovered and partly followed up and these should bring more results when another grand jury meets, if the next one proves to be a worthy successor to the one just discharged. Christian county points to the eight indictments already returned—one in January and seven in March—and sends greetings to the rest of Kentucky.
We are still capable of self government. Officers are not afraid to do their duty. Juries are willing to indict when the evidence warrants it.
But there yet remains much to be done. The courts must find a way to keep bad men off the petit juries. Lawyers who make a business of defending night riders should be shown up in their true colors and kept out of office at all hazards.
Cowards, weaklings and sympathizers with lawbreakers should be relegated to the rear. The masses are honest and upright. A majority of the people are on the side of law.
There are good and true men in every community. Reason is bound to assert itself. Good citizens everywhere are tired of the reign of disorder and are ashamed of our boasted citizenship. There must be a change, there will be a change, if the people demand it. Christian county has started the ball to rolling. A grand jury made up largely of association men has said that guilty men must be brought to punishment.

What will the petit juries do when the honor of Kentucky is at stake?
We shall see. If the jury wheel has in it men who will not rise to the demands of the people, then the wheel itself, the source of all juries, must be purified. The jury commissioners to be appointed this year should be selected with the greatest care. Into the hands of three men in 119 counties of the State, must be entrusted the good name and the future prosperity of Kentucky. Let none but brave and true men be placed on guard in these positions, men who will keep an eye on the wheel, and all will yet be well.

Congressman Chas. E. Littlefield, of Maine, has resigned to devote his time to law practice.

Gov. M. R. Patterson and Col.
Felix G. Ewing held a conference in Clarksville Monday.

Former Gov. John W. Stewart, of Vermont, was appointed United States Senator to succeed the late Redfield Proctor.

Sheriff Webb of Yellowstone county, Montana, was shot and killed by a horse thief whom he was attempting to arrest.

Louisiana State primary election laws were declared unconstitutional, null and void by Judge King in the Civil District court at New Orleans.

Night rider notices have appeared in Lincoln county, West Virginia, where farmers have been notified under penalty of the destruction of their property not to raise tobacco crops.

Gov. Willson has approved the Bi-partisan Board of Control bill and appointed Stanley Millward as the fourth member of the Board, heretofore made up of Percy Haly, Dr.
Milton Board and Albert S. Scott.

The Park City News is booming Hon. T. W. Thomas, of Bowling Green, as the strongest man in the Democratic party of the Third district and says if nominated for Congress he can redeem the district.

A trial in Chicago involving the title to $20,000,000 of property, which began Sept. 3, is nearing a close.
There have been more than 100 witpeared in the case.

It is reported at Lexington that residents of that city who own farms near there are burning tobacco plant beds in their back yards, hoping to be able to set out the plants on their farms later.

The Hearst papers have sprung the name of Thomas L. Higen, Hearst candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, as the Independence League candidate for President. There is a string tied to the suggestion, as it is said Mr. Hearst may decide later on to become the candidate himself.
Mr. Higen is a cousin of Chas. H.
Higen, of this city.

To-morrow is the last day upon which candidates for congress can announce in the Second district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of May 9. In the event of there being no opposition to Hon. A.
O. Stanley, as now seems probable, the primary will be called off and the nomination made by the district committee.

The Supreme Court has handed down a decision in a North Carolina case that is a virtual knock-out for the new railroad rate laws of that State and Minnesota. The enormous fines and penalties are held to be excessive, depriving the railroads of a resort to the courts and the equal protection of the laws.

Gov. Patterson has authorized Col.
Gracey Childers to summon a posse of fifty men to preserve order in Clarksville. The posse may or may not be the local militia, though they are to act as peace officers and not as soldiers. The Sheriff also may summons a posse. This of course means that the Governor does not intend to afford any outside assistance to the people of Clarksville—at least until after the June primary is held.

Mending a Disposition

"There is every reason to believe the experiment has been successful," said the surgeon. "The patient is sleeping soundly."

"What is the object of the present operation?"

"The father of Charles Renwick, on whom I have operated, desires that his son shall unite two estates by marrying his second cousin Miss Annette Barklow. Charles inherits from a great-uncle a morose, dictatorial, overbearing disposition, very repulsive to the young lady. At the father's request I have let the blood of an ample, rollicking, generous young fellow into Charles' veins, supplying the deficiency from the blood of a healthy sheep. Miss Barklow knows nothing of the affair. When Charles gets out he is to make a new wooing."

Charles Renwick after this operation was very much changed. He was an object of great interest to the doctor who had given him new blood and with the new blood a new disposition.
The following account is taken from the surgeon's memoranda:

Jan. 5.—Permitted the patient to go out to ride within three days after the operation. Saw evidence of a change in disposition from the time Miss Annette came. Patient's previous inclination to cruelty to animals replaced by an apparent fondness for them. Irrascibility vanished. Patient is constantly singing, cracking jokes, making merry.

Jan. 30.—Renwick sends me that Miss Barklow's reputation to Charles seems to be diminishing. The couple have been out to ride together, and the young lady shows no disposition to repel his attentions. Mr. Renwick, Sr., very hopeful. Says he has noticed certain traits that did not belong to his son before the transfusion—viz. a tendency to play practical jokes. Has come upon him suddenly when dancing alone. Neither of these traits was ever observed in him before.

Feb. 15.—Have been studying hereditary cases and am struck with some remarkable ones, showing how transient is the dormancy for several generations, then crop out in a single individual. This leads me to prepare myself for any peculiarities broken with develop in the case of Charles Renwick.
Called on Wagstaff, from whose son I took the blood. Has sent me a sketch of every member of the family for five generations back. Shall keep them for reference as occasion suggests.

April 24.—Mr. Renwick, Sr., has just been to me in sore distress. Charles has been acting strangely. The boy has apparently been captivated by a ballet dancer. Has corresponded with her. Preparations for flight. Fortunately all has been discovered in time and Charles sent southward. Referring to family sketches, find Peter Rennold, Wagstaff's uncle, married an actress. Singular that this should have come again to the surface in Charles by transfused blood.

Sept. 30.—More trouble in the case of Charles Renwick. His father tells me that just as he was about to be married to Miss Barklow he so disgusted her that she has broken with him. It seems that the two were in the country and attended a county fair in the same party. Charles separated for a time from the other and when they saw him again he was in the center of a crowd dancing a jig and swinging his cane over his head. Some one gazed him, whereupon Charles turned for the fellow, rattling his cane on the man's head and shoulders. Two of his adversary's friends went in to help him crush Charles, but Charles jumped five feet in the air, landed a down-blow on one of them and cracked the skull of the other with his cane, which unfortunately was a big one made of hickory. He is now in jail.

Sept. 21.—Ran over the list of Wag-staff's ancestors. Under the O's find Dennis O'Rourke, 1840 to 1830. Famous for the swing of his Irish ball.
One occasion at Doneybrook fair thrashed a dozen men in succession.
Tied his head broken by a ball and died at the age of twenty-five. This looks bad. I fear my experiment of transfusion in order to improve disposition is not successful in accomplishing the object desired.

Oct. 2.—Have been thinking a good deal about how to improve on Charles Renwick. May I not, instead of giving him another disposition by a new transfusion, mixle some more quietest blood with his? As soon as he is discharged from arrest will try.

Nov. 12.—This morning transfused 10 per cent of the blood of a quiet disposed theological student into the veins of Charles Renwick. Am anxious to know if this will unglue dispositions, mollifying that of Charles Renwick.
Dec. 20.—Have made a remarkable discovery. An inherited trait that does not appear in an individual may be brought out by mingling the blood of that individual with the blood of another. After letting some of the theological student's blood into Charles Renwick I expected greater quiescence.
In this I have been disappointed.
Young Tharlet, the student, has descended from one who took a prominent part in the French revolution.
This revolutionary blood in Renwick has developed a craze for demolition.
Charles is bent on organizing armed rebellion against the trusts. I wish I had let this transfusion matter alone.

June 1.—Barklow transfused some blood of a fawn into Charles Renwick. A fawn has not developed anything disreputable, such as we find in the higher state of man. Have obtained a splendid disposition. Invitation to wedding of Charles Renwick and Annette Barklow received.

Gen. S. S. Yoder, 98 Md. Ave., N. E., Wash-

"I desire to say that I have found Pe-ru-na to be a wonderful remedy. I only used it for a short time and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I shall gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

Recommends Pe-ru-na to the Afflicted.

Gen. D. T. Atter, Washington, D. C., writes concerning Pe-ru-na, as follows:

"Friends of mine having used your Pe-ru-na catarrh cure with good results, I am impressed with its curative qualities, and can recommend it to those who are afflicted."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicines in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Pe-ru-na tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Pe-ru-na. Each tablet is equivalent to an average dose of Pe-ru-na, as follows:

For Catarrh of the Stomach.

Gen. W. W. Wood, Washington, D. C., writes:
"I have used Pe-ru-na in my family and have found it a valuable medicine and take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer from catarrh of the stomach or who require a tonic of prompt efficacy."

DEAFNESS CAUSED BY CATARRH— RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

Gen. A. M. Legg, writes from the Savings Bank Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I take pleasure in endorsing the many recommendations I have heard and read of Pe-ru-na, because of having had knowledge of the truth of so many of them."
"We always tell our sick and ailing friends of the remedies that we have learned, from experience, were good for us when ailing in the same way, and we do it as a duty we feel that we owe them."

"Why is it any less our duty to advise all the people we can when we know of a good and comparatively inexpensive remedy that makes many cures, and benefits in almost all cases?"

"My own little personal experience of being relieved of deafness, caused by a siege of catarrh, warrants me in advising all the afflicted to just try Pe-ru-na."

For Kidney Trouble, Coughs, Colds and Catarrh.

Gen. A. T. Hawley, 1336 25th St., N.
W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have used Pe-ru-na and find it very beneficial for kidney trouble, and especially good for coughs, colds and catarrh of the throat."

Convinced of Pe-ru-na's Merit.

Brig. Gen. J. Floyd King, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I hesitatingly state that I am convinced Pe-ru-na is a medicine which will affect all that is claimed for its use."

Those desirous of obtaining special directions with regard to the use of Pe-ru-na should write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Proved Efficacious.

lain U. S. Army, Ex-Chaplain 4th Wisconsin Cavalry, Ex-Treas. State of Wisconsin and Ex-Q. Master General State of Texas, O. A. R., writes from 1700 First street, N. E., Washington, D. C., as follows:
"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhs troubles in their various forms."
"Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results."

"When other remedies failed, Pe-ru-na proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Pe-ru-na, a Standard Treatment For Catarrhal Diseases.

Mr. John O. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer, while a Captain in the Federal Army during the Civil War, contracted a case of rheumatism. This malady was constant and persistent, inducing the development of other ailments, which also became chronic. After taking a course of Pe-ru-na, Capt. Nelson writes:

"Having been painfully afflicted with chronic rheumatism and the adjunctive complications for many years, and after having received many general and special treatments with only temporary relief, I read your scientific treatise on catarrhal diseases."

"At my request you prescribed a special course of the Pe-ru-na remedies, which I closely followed, and am happy to report that my rheumatism and complicated ailments are subdued, and I feel young again at the age of 60 years."

"Reasoning will accept your classification of catarrhal diseases as scientific and true, and the Pe-ru-na remedies as a standard treatment for them. I thank you heartily for your skilled and logical advice."

CROSS THE OHIO.

Night Riders From Kentucky Tear Up Tobacco Beds in Ohio.

Cincinnati, O., March 25.—Under cover of darkness a band of night riders crossed the Ohio river and operated in the vicinity of Ripley, destroying the tobacco beds of August Moonshon, three miles east of Ripley, in what is known as Springtown, O. Threats were also left posted on his barn, telling Moonshon to desist planting on the penalty of his life.

A mysterious fire last Thursday night destroyed the blacksmith shop of Walter Hook, on the Russellville pike near Ripley, a short distance from the farm of Moonshon. In the barn was stored 1,000 pounds of tobacco, the property of Elliott Pur-ton, a neighbor of Hook. This was destroyed with the building. Neither Hook nor Purton were members of the Society of Equity, and both had been warned not to sell their tobacco. Purton, it is said, despite these warnings, sold some of his tobacco in the Cincinnati markets and refused to stop. Moonshon, whose tobacco beds were torn up, is not a member of the Equity Society. He had received threatening letters signed "Night Riders." The riders after leaving Ripley crossed the river, it is reported. Ripley is in Brown county, nearly opposite Mayville.

The night riders played their first game in Breckenridge county Tuesday at Mitchell, on the Henderson route branch in that county. They put up a notice on the L. H. and St.
L. work train there that no negroes must be allowed to work there. The railroad company sent armed men to Mitchell Tuesday night to protect their colored employees, but by 6 o'clock every negro had left. The crew was working on the new Middenville road.

One of the most prominent Society of Equity men in the Lawrenceburg section has received a notice to the effect that if any beds are scraped or damaged done that he will be held personally responsible and hanged to the highest telephone pole in Anderson county. A number of tobacco raisers have dug up their own beds.

The April Woman's

Home Companion.

The April number of the Woman's Home Companion contains several notable articles, and is, in addition a thoroughly artistic and beautiful issue. Kellogg Durand contributes his second article on "Women of the Russian Revolt". Jane Adams writes a thoughtful and appealing article on the "Working Woman and the Ballot". Dr. Edward Everett Hale gives a helpful talk on "The Meaning of Home", and Elizabeth Stuart Phelps continues her second story, "Though Life Us Do Part." There are also some excellent short stories.
This April issue is beautiful in its Easter cover and in many fine pictorial features by Herman C. Wall, Florence Swool Shin, Ellen Macauley and others.

The Princess Virginia

By C. N. and A. M. WILLIAMSON, Authors of "The Lightning Conductor," "The Search of a Father," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Through the gate of dreams lies the fair land of romance into which you would travel, finding welcome relief from the daily grind. Now you are invited to accompany the Princess Virginia, who determines that the royal personage who would honor her with his hand must fall in love with her and who her as any other man would a woman. Therefore she travels incognito in his realm, meeting adventures strange and full of excitement. You will learn with pardonable pride that the American blood in her veins gives her an independence unheard of in the presence of kings, but most of all you will want to know how she succeeds in her bold undertaking. That you will enjoy every minute of the reading is assured by the verdict of thousands who declare "The Princess Virginia" to be a most delightful story.

CHAPTER EIGHT

OUT A window of the fourteenth century yellow marble palace on the hill, with its famous garden of the nine fountains that was not abate with light, glittering against a faraway background of violet mountains crowned by snow.

Outside the tall bronze gates where marble lions crouched the crowd that might not pass beyond started, clustered, pointed and exclaimed without jealousy of their betters. User Leo was giving a ball, and there was enough for their happiness to see the slow moving line of splendid state coaches, gorgeous automobiles and neat broughams with well known crests upon their doors; to strive good naturedly for a peep at the faces and dresses, the jewels and picturesque uniforms; to comment upon all freely, but never impudently, asking one another what would be for supper and with whom the emperor would dance.

"There she is—there's the beautiful young foreign lady who saved him!" cried a girl in the throng. "I was there and saw her, I tell you. Isn't she an angel?"

Instantly a hearty cheer went up, growing in volume, and the green coated footmen and to keep back the crowd that would have stopped the horses and pressed close for a long look into a plain dark blue brougham.

Virginia shrank out of the crowd against the cushions, blushing and breathing quickly as she caught her mother's hand.

"Dear people—dear, kind people!" she thought. "I love them for loving him! I wonder, oh, I wonder, if they will ever see me and cheer me driving by his side."

She had chosen to wear the white dress with the pearls, though up to the last moment the dark duchess had suffered tortures of indecision between that and the blue to say nothing of a pink chiffon trimmed with crushed roses. But to the carriage brought them to the palace doors the girl's blush had faded and her face was as white as her gown when at her mother's side she passed between bowing lackeys through the marble Hall of Lions, on through the frescoed litter hall to the throne room, where the emperor's guests awaited his coming.

It was etiquette not to arrive a moment later than to o'clock, and a few minutes after the hour Baron von Lyndal in his official capacity as grand master of ceremonies struck the polished door with his hand and the door opened. Every one was on tenterhooks to see how she would be greeted by the grateful emperor.

The instant that his dark head bowed above other heads in the throne room it was observed even by those not usually observant that never had Leopold been so handsome.

Instead of pleasure. But for the bit, a wait, he loved before Virginia. During this long hour there had been hardly a movement, snail or glimmer of peace which he had not contrived to see since his entrance. He knew just how well Baron von Lyndal carried out his instructions concerning Miss Montenegro. He saw each partner presented to her for a dance the emperor might not claim, and to save his life or a national crisis he could not have forced the same expression in speaking with her royal highness from Russia as that which spontaneously brightened his face when at last he approached Virginia.

"Who is that girl?" asked Count von Bretstein in his usual abrupt manner as the arm of Leopold girdled the slim waist of the princess and the eyes of Leopold drank light from another pair of eyes lifted to his in laughter.

It was to Baroness von Lyndal that the old chancellor put his question, and she dutifully a tiny diamond apunged fan of lace to hide his face. What smile she answered, "What, chancellor, are you jesting, or don't you really know who that girl is?" Count von Bretstein turned eyes cold and gray as glass away from the two figures moving rhythmically with the music to the face of the once celebrated beauty. Long ago he had admired Baroness von Lyndal as passionately as it was in him to admire any woman, but that day was so far distant as to be remembered with scorn and now such power as she had over him was merely to excite a feeling of irritation.

"I seldom trouble myself to jest," he answered.

"Ah, one knows that truly great men are born without a sense of humor. Those who have it are never as successful in life as those without." smiled the baroness, who was by birth a Hungarian and loved laugh or better than anything else except compliments upon her ravishing beauty. "How stupid of me to have tried your patience! That girl! as you so uncompromisingly call her, has two claims to attention at court. First, the English Miss Helen Mowbray whose mother has come to Kronburg armed with sheaves of introductions to all the young men of the court, and of whom the papers are full today, for it is she who saved the emperor's life."

"Indeed!" said the chancellor, a gray gleam in his eye as he watched the white figure floating on the tide of music in the arms of Leopold. "Indeed?"

"I thought you would have known, for you know most things before other people hear of them," went on the baroness. "Lady Mowbray and her daughter are staying at the Hotel Langewald hotel. That's the mother sitting on the left of Princess Neufried—the pretty Dresden china person. But the girl is a great beauty."

"It is generous of you to say so, baroness," replied the chancellor. "I didn't see the young lady's face at all clearly yesterday. I was stationed too far away. And dress makes a great difference."

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES NEVER LEAK

What never leak? Exactly: never leak, never needs repairs of any kind, and last as long as the building itself. Neither melting snow, nor the worst driving rain can possibly reach the interior of the building that's covered with Cortright Metal Shingles. Pretty good recommendation isn't it? In addition we might add they're fire-proof and lightning proof too. Think of it! and they are not as expensive as other forms of roofing. Step in and we'll show them to you.
